

Register of persons living outside the Chortitza Mennonite Settlement in 1852

Source: Guardianship Committee for Foreign Settlers in Southern Russia (Fond 6, Inventory 3, File 15751) in the Odessa Region State Archives, Odessa, Ukraine

Translated by Mennonite Heritage Archives volunteer Ed Enns, Winnipeg, Manitoba (May 2002); edited by Tim Janzen, Portland, Oregon (September 2002)

Explanatory comments by Tim Janzen: This document was apparently compiled to provide information to the Guardianship Committee about all Mennonites from the Chortitza Colony who were living elsewhere. The file in which this document is found contains similar lists for many of the German colonies located throughout South Russia, including the Molotschna Colony. In this translation the names of the Mennonites are shown with the exact same spelling as they appear in the original document. The names of locations and of non-Mennonite people are translated to their most common modern forms. The words wife, son, and daughter have been abbreviated as “w”, “s”, and “d”, respectively. This document provides considerable insight into the initial dispersal of Mennonites from the Chortitza Colony to other locations. While many of these people were living outside of the Chortitza Colony at the time the 1850 Chortitza Colony Census was taken, this document reveals that they were listed in that census in their home village in the Chortitza Colony where they (or in a few cases, their parents) originally came from. The original document from which this translation was made may be found on microfilm at the following archives: the Center for Mennonite Brethren Studies, Fresno, California; the Center for Mennonite Studies, Tabor College, Hillsboro, Kansas; the Mennonite Historical Society of British Columbia, Abbotsford, British Columbia; and the Mennonite Heritage Archives, Winnipeg, Manitoba.
